Abstract (en)
[origin: WO03086151A1] A bedding system that provides ease of handling and transport and reduces storage space, and includes a foundation (11) in the form of a shell comprising a top panel and a side panel (18), a mattress (12) having a transport size to fit inside the shell so that the foundation (11) and mattress (12) can be transported as a single unit having the outside dimensions of the foundation. When in set up as a bed, the mattress is placed on the top panel of the foundation. A bracing system (72) is provided that attaches to the sidewalls (18) of the foundation (11) to provide a foundation sufficiently strong to support a mattress and one or more users.
