Abstract (en)

A crate (1) for storing and/or transporting bottles or similar articles has side walls (3) in which openings (4) are provided. The openings are partially or entirely covered by panels (5), which may be transparent to display the contents of the crate. The panels are designed to reinforce the crate and may extend from the base (2) to the top rim (10) of the crate. Two panels located at opposed side walls may be mutually connected by a bridging element (6), which may additionally serve as a handle. The assembly of two panels and a bridging element may be integrally formed. <IMAGE>
