Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1512817A2] The hinge strip (100), for a door or window, gives a swing action on a door or window frame around a hinge axis (S). A mounting (10) secures the hinge strip at the swing door or window panel. The hinge components (20) are over each other on the hinge axis of the strip bolt (B), which is inserted into a drilling (30). An adjustment unit (50) at the mounting acts on the bolt within its drilling, to shift it in an adjustment direction (V).
