Abstract (en)

MAGNETIC ELEMENT FOR FOOTWEAR, CLOTHES AND ACCESSORIES, constituted by a body easily integral into the materials used for the manufacture of an article, garment, item of footwear or similar suitable to be worn by the user, who benefits from the bio-magnetic effects in a prolonged and constant manner. The body of the magnetic element is made up of at least one surface that is noticeably flat for its adhesion and integration into the material, be it textile, leather or other, by means of a conventional method, such as gluing, sewing, heat welding, ultra sound or something similar. In an alternative embodiment the body of the magnetic element has a domed pressure surface for the carrying out of a massage to the skin by contact or pressure.
