Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004002852A1] The invention concerns a bag (1) comprising a main bag (2) provided with two main side walls (20) with sealed lateral edges (21) and a filling orifice (22), said main bag (2) including at its edge or lower end (24) a base provided with means for standing upright. The invention is characterized in that it comprises at least one secondary wall (3) integral with the main bag (2) so as to form at least one secondary compartment (30), typically for packaging a so-called secondary product (4B), said secondary orifice (31) typically including a secondary closure means (37). The bag provides the advantage of the possibility of packaging separated products.
