Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1522250A2] The housing section of a household device such as a dishwasher, a refrigerator or a freezer, a washing machine or a laundry drier incorporates a preferably load-carrying constituent consisting of a foamed duroplastic material, in particular, polyurethane foam. Independent claims are also included for: (A) a housing with the proposed section for a household device; (B) a household device with such a housing.
