Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1522633A2] Road milling machine (2) comprises a driver's station (10) with a base plate (14), and a steering device (26) fixed to the chassis (4) and provided with a console (28) with a steering wheel (30). The console is fixed at one end laterally to the chassis and its other end is free. The console extends laterally above the base plate to form an opening (36) between the base plate and the console. Preferred Features: The chassis has a recess (38) in front of the opening in the direction of travel so that the road covering (18) is visible through the opening.
