Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2004010965A1] The invention relates to the cosmetic use of at least one lignan of given formula, or of a plant extract containing it (such as an extract of flax seeds), in a composition suitable for topical application to the skin, containing a cosmetically acceptable medium, for preventing or treating the signs of ageing of the skin, in particular the loss of firmness, elasticity and/or tonicity of the skin and/or the formation of wrinkles and fine lines. The invention also relates to a topical cosmetic composition containing these lignans in combination with other anti-ageing active agents. Lastly, the invention relates to a cosmetic process for treating dry skin, comprising the topical application to the said skin of a composition containing at least one such lignan in a cosmetically acceptable medium.
