Abstract (en)

[origin: DE10236505A1] The engine has at least one cylinder head with a fuel injector (3) in its housing (2), a cable loom for transferring signals from an electric controller (6) to the injector with a first section (4) between the controller to the housing and a second section (5) from the housing to the injector and an arrangement for connecting the first and second sections. The connection arrangement has a terminal block (8) and a cover (9), both with self-locking arrangements.
