Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1528192A1] The lock fitting has a fixation plate (2) with a longitudinal opening (3) for accessing a sliding bar (4) mounted axially in a case extending perpendicularly at the back of the plate. The sliding bar has two end parts (15, 16) connected by a flexible central plate (17). The bar is flexible in the longitudinal direction for assuring its insertion in the case by bending it through the opening in the plate.
