Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1529654A2] The medium has a mask forming component constituted of a transparent film (15) with its lateral extension interposed between a lateral extension of a support forming card (14) and lateral extension of a mask (23). The film presents a cutting outline that corresponds to a contour of a zone to be masked. The mask is formed on a face (19) of the film whose another face (17) is adhered to the card. An independent claim is also included for a method for formation of a mask forming component.
