Abstract (en)

[origin: US2005126603A1] The aim of the invention is to provide a method for adapting a rinsing program in a dishwasher machine, said method enabling the rinsing program run of a dishwasher machine to be adapted in such a way that satisfactory cleaning and drying performances are achieved even when using a combination rinse aid. To this end, the rinsing program run is adapted if there is insufficient salt, if the softening device is switched off, and if the dishwasher machine is on.
