Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1538089A1] The locking tab (17) is separated from the main closure flap (13) by a crease line (15). This line includes locking edges (30), facing the main closure flap (13) over parts of the flap width. At the side flap (23) an edge (35) forms a stop surface for the locking edge (30) when the main flap (13) is closed.
