Abstract (en)

Improved plumbing fixture fittings (40) for commercial sinks having a faucet (41) with a pre-rinse unit includes a universal tap (42) and flexible steel hoses to connect the universal tap (42) of the faucet (41) with the building's source of supply of water (16,17) to the sink. Special packaging for the pre-rinse fixtures can include a rigid plastic shell (83) that shields at least some of the underlying fittings from the shrink-wrap material that holds the fittings against movement on a rigid substrate. The fittings are pre-assembled before being mounted to the rigid substrate (32) by the shrink-wrap material.
