Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1538275A2] A rapid system for laying paving slabs (1) has premixed measures of mortar packed in separate bags (2) made of a water permeable fabric. The bags are soaked in water and laid under the corners of the slabs. The bags can be marked with crosses to align the four corners of the slabs fitted onto the bags. The user places the wet bags at the corners, lays the slabs and tamps down the slabs to form the required level.
