Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2843709A1] The assembly equipment (1) used for mounting a dispensing element on the neck of a container comprises a press element (14) which exerts a force on the dispensing element in order to press fit it on the container neck. It comprises a first truncated guide wall (128) which brings the dispensing element roughly in line with the axis of the neck and a second guide wall (148) which is used to adjust the orientation of the dispensing element precisely into the neck axis.
