Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004013026A1] The invention relates to a method and a conveying device (1) for processing printed products (2). Said conveying device (1) comprises a guiding means (3) and conveying means (4) that are movably disposed along the guiding means (3) and convey printed products (2) which are delivered with the aid of feeding devices (16). The guiding means (3) is bent in several three-dimensional directions. The inventive conveying device (1) also comprises holding means (12, 35) for temporarily fixing printed products (2) such that said printed products (2) can be conveyed at least in some areas counter to the force of gravity.
