Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1548675A1] From outside a blanking-out mask (1) for a monitoring device is as good as invisible to an observer and consequently well camouflaged. Large powerful imaging lenses (3) can be inserted for a monitoring camera (2) because of the good camouflaging properties. A simple structure is produced because the blanking-out mask forms just a single piece. A surface pointing outwards has a flat shape.
