Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2004035280A1] In order to produce formed concrete pieces, particularly concrete stones (10), which have at least one exterior face (12) that is structured in a special manner, concrete is scraped off by means of a scraper (23) that is moved along the concrete stone (10) during the production thereof. The scraped off concrete (25) is immediately and continuously evacuated on the free side of the scraper (23).
