Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004034516A2] The invention relates to an electrical plug-in connector, in particular in the form of a cable plug connector, or a device connector plug. According to the invention, a particularly reliable and tightly-sealed connector may be achieved, whereby a plug-in connector (1, 23, 27, 39) is disclosed, comprising a connector mechanism, which is self-closing on bringing the parts for connection together. The plug-in connector further comprises a radial seal (21, 31) for sealing the parts connected together.
