Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1553347A2] Domestic appliance, especially a cooking appliance, comprises an oven having a wall (9) provided with a holding element (15) for suspending a suspension part (58, 59). In a locked position an adjusting element (69) fixes the suspension part on the holding element. Preferred Features: In an unlocked position the adjusting element releases the suspension part from the holding element. The adjusting element is designed as a spring element. The holding element has a recess (33) for suspending the suspension part.
