Abstract (en)
A packaging unit comprises a panel of stiff but foldable material, the panel comprising a centre portion (3) having a tacky surface. Side portions (4) are defined by side fold lines (1) at opposite edges of said centre portion (3). A sheet of flexible film faces said tacky surface and is attached to the side portions (4) such that folding of the side portions away from an object (7, 8) located between the film and the centre portion (3) tightens the film against the object and secures it against the tacky surface of the centre portion. <IMAGE>
