Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1562264A1] The device has a box fixed by a fixation unit to a receiving system (2) and receiving interface card locking/unlocking units (4a, 4n). Each locking/unlocking unit is disposed opposite to reception housings of the system (2), in a position locking the access or removal of an interface card. A communication unit permits transmission of signal between the device and a computer processing system connected to the system (2). An independent claim is also included for process for utilization of locking/unlocking an interface card.
