Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004043205A1] The object of this invention is a system of panels for partitioning work areas in industrial kitchens and in food preparation companies, which can be installed, disassembled and reassembled elsewhere in a different layout quickly, safely and in a versatile manner. It consists of structural elements made up of specially designed self supporting panels (1, 2, 3) which are fitted head on between two vertical supports (12).
