Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1568958A1] The heating element has a tubing system (17) and a two dimensional element (2), between two ends of the heating element. The tubing system and the two dimensional element are connected with one another. The two dimensional element (2) has different surface segments (11, 12) combined with one another. The two dimensional element are essentially flat or can be formed as a wave shape.
