Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2848172A1] The wagon has two wheels of transversal axle assembled to a chassis (2a) provided with a rigid rod (5a) associated to a handle (50a). Two zones of coupling (6a) receive the extremities of a transversal rod that couples the mediums to a load. Another chassis (1a) has beveled wedges (8) to provoke the load movement towards a vertical passing by the axle when chassis (2a) moves from a loading position to a transport position. One chassis is rotated around the axle between a position of coupling in which the rod is engaged on the zones of coupling and a position of transport in which the wagon carries the load.
