Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1570909A1] An assembly for coupling a fluid line to a rotatable nozzle of an automated sprayer for spraying the walls of a shower enclosure with a liquid cleanser. The sprayer dispenses the cleanser using a pumping system and rotatable spray head and has a showerhead mountable housing with an adjustable hanger. There is a portion of the housing for supporting a bottle of cleanser in an inverted fashion. The bottle is vented through a piercing post. A single motor both drives the pump and rotates the spray head. <IMAGE>
