Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2004052168A1] The aim of the invention is to provide a dishwasher (1) comprising at least one display device (5) for displaying data, said dishwasher offering the option of using a remote display device (11) and enabling said option to be selected without raising the production costs for the user. To this end, the inventive dishwasher (1) is embodied in such a way that optionally additionally a separate data-remote-display-activating module and/or data-remote-display-transmitting module (7) can be integrated into, or connected to, the dishwasher (1), said module processing data provided by the display device (5) or a control device of the dishwasher (1) and forwarding said corresponding data to a remote display device (11) by means of the power supply system.
