Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1585069A2] The installation has incrementation entities, each with a terminal having a unit to increment balance of a card with a credited amount corresponding to a received amount. A collective management server (16) for card recharging has a microprocessor to credit a joint account with the credited amount. Entity account management servers (70A, 70B) have microprocessors (72A, 72B) to debit the credited amount from the account of the entities.
