Abstract (en)

[origin: DE10305644B3] The blank cartridge attachment has a jet boring connecting the interior of a core boring (25) to the outside (33). The jet boring is in the middle of a narrow part of the core boring. The part of the core boring facing away from the barrel is connected by at least one large radial boring (31) to the outside. The tube (19) has an external thread (41) fitting in an internal thread in another boring (51).
