Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1595988A1] A process for increasing the mesh number at the edge (10) of a neck section formed by a knitting machine, comprises locating the neck edge sections (A.C) where the mesh number is to be increased and locating a thread over the needles. The opposite needle bed (H) is displaced and the mesh is placed on it. This is repeated until all mesh sections are on the empty needles.
