Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1596135A2] The door has a strip unit (11), a front part (12) and an inner part (13). At least one specially-formed attaching device (14-21) is provided on the front part and/or the inner part, to establish a frictional and/or form-fitting connection of a fixing unit. The attaching device may be provided on a viewing window. Independent claims are included for a viewing window, a domestic appliance door system, and a method of manufacturing a domestic appliance door.
