Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2223633A1] A fire barrier fabric quilted under ticking material of a bedding product. This specific mattress design improves resistance to fire damage to the mattress and surroundings and reduces the generation of harmful smoke. Adding this fire barrier fabric to the quilt panel does not compromise the intended use of the end use product. The bedding products can also improve the fire resistance of the border panel of a mattress. The fire barrier fabric is placed directly behind the standard ticking material and can be applied to all standard bedding sizes
