Abstract (en)

The invention relates to a method for realizing a package (1), comprising the steps of: manufacturing a cardboard blank which is provided, at least partly, with a plastic coating; setting up the blank into a substantially tray-shaped box (2); filling the box with products to be packaged; closing off the box with a plastic film (3) and sealing this film against a coated part of the box. The invention also relates to a box, a blank and a device for use in such a method.
