Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1607551A1] The fixation unit has a main part (13) and a clip (14) clamped to a profile of a post and including housing (19) that receives a wire of a wire mesh. The clip has a prong including a pin, and the body of the main part defines an internal volume, within which a slot opens. The main part includes a rack that cooperates with the pin during wire fixation. A cover (16) closes the housing to fix the wire within the housing. An independent claim is also included for a fence including a wire mesh fixed on a number of posts with profiles having a T-shape in transversal section.
