Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1609382A1] The accessory has a rigid part (2) permitting fixation of the accessory on shoe surface. An accessory adjusting unit (3) is divided into two parts (4, 5) that are connected by a transversal axle (12). Shoe parts are closed and tightened if a fastening unit is fixed on a tooth of the part (4), and the part (5) does not support any load and follow the shape of the shoe surface using articulation at the axle.
