Abstract (en)

A tattoo can be attractive but is also long lasting and hard to remove. A simple painting creates a flat, not very exiting effect. The new method uses a template (2) with openings (3) arranged in an ornamental pattern to be positioned on the skin area (1) to be decorated. A skin-friendly glue (4) is applied on the skin areas (1) not hidden underneath the template (2) and a suitable grainy material (5) in attractive colors or with a glitter effect distributed on top. There could be a glue (4) used which is impermeable for ultraviolet rays in order to leave a white pattern on a subsequently tanned skin (1).
