Abstract (en)

The device has a transmission unit (4) transforming rotational movement of a curtain into linear movement. A motor unit (5) activates the unit (4) and has a driving unit rotating the unit (4). A control unit controls the unit (5), and a driving unit (6) drives slides (2) and a head-slide (7) and cooperates with the unit (4) for transmitting a linear movement corresponding to a track (3), to the head-slide (7). An independent claim is also included for an application of a curtain opening and closing device.
