Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1614834A2] The store for motor vehicles (7) has a number of compartments located one above the other and/or next to each other, load-bearing platforms (6), and at least one transfer station (8) which has an accessible room (12), the bottom surface (13) of which on one side is formed by one of the platforms, and on the other side by a stationary plateau (14) connected to the platform in its position in the transfer station. The vehicle driving-in or driving-out opening (15) is connected to a transverse side of the platform in the transfer station. The platforms in their position in the transfer station at least on their side facing the transporting device (3) has a barrier (18) separating the transfer station from the store.
