Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004079411A1] Existing household appliances comprising a symbol display are provided with a light source (25) for illuminating a displayed symbol (7) and an optical filter (10, 27) for reducing the perusal of said displayed symbol when the light source (25) is switched off. The aim of said invention is to optically represent the displayed symbol (7). For this purpose, the optical filter (10, 27) is embodied in such a way that it is transparent for a predefined light colour and opaque to another light colour.
