Abstract (en)

The adjustable strip for mounting at hollow profiles, with multi-part strip sections attached to the window or door frame and the swing door or window pane, have mounting sections (14) and a hinge (5). The hinge has a guide leg (7) matching the dimensions of a profile chamber, so that it lies against at least one chamber wall. A mounting plate (13) extends from the leg with openings (17) to fit at studs (16) at the mounting at right angles to the mounting plate on its wide side on the mounting axis (P). A spindle (18) is between the mounting plate and the hinge to set the gap.
