Abstract (en)
A bed (1) can be switched between a form of a rocking baby bed, a form of a fixed baby bed, and a form of a large-size bed, using a frame of a baby bed comprising a rectangular floorboard (2) and a surrounding frame which surrounds the rectangular floorboard (2). In the form of the rocking baby bed, a baby is supported and rocked in a space above the rectangular floorboard (2). A first connection member (107) connects one side end of a bed member (106) to an upper end of a head part frame (3) and holds the one side end of the bed member (106) which is suspended above the rectangular floorboard (2). A second connection member (108) connects the other side end of the bed member (106) to an upper end of a foot part frame (4), and holds the other side end of the bed member (106) which is suspended above the rectangular floorboard (2). In the form of the fixed baby bed, the bed member (106) is dismantled and the baby is put on the rectangular floorboard (2). In the form of the large-size bed, a person lie down on a floorboard having a larger bed area positioned at a lower place.
