Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1626242A1] Locking device locks a munition chain consisting of chain parts joined together. The munition magazine comprises a magazine frame with a longitudinal support. A locking catch (16) and a lever (30) are arranged on the longitudinal support. A spring-loaded lever (34) is connected to the longitudinal support. A chain stopper (33) and a control bolt (31) are arranged on a bullet holder of the munition chain and aligned with the locking catch. Preferred Features: The locking catch is arranged in the middle of the longitudinal support. Plastic surfaces are provided below the chain parts.
