Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2004105880A1] The invention relates to a hood (1), particularly for a protective garment (2), preferably for protective and/or military purposes, such as an ABC protective garment or the like, wherein the hood (1) has a peripheral elastic hem (3) for forming an opening for the face (4), said opening being provided for receiving a breathing mask (5), wherein the hem (3) is placed on the breathing mask (5) during utilization. In order to achieve or improve sealing of the transition area between the hem (3) and the breathing mask (5), at least one peripheral sealing element (6) for ensuring sealed placement on the breathing mask (5) is provided on the side of the hem (3) facing the opening for the face (4).
