Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2004108420A1] The invention relates to a printing line and to a method for operating a printing line, whereby the printing line contains two printers (10, 12) that respectively print endless webs (18, 24). A post-processing system (40) processes the printed webs. A web storage unit (30) is placed between the printers (10, 12) and the post-processing system (40) and serves to temporarily store the printed webs.
