Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2855815A1] The stopper has unlocking units to unlock a cover (2) out of a base and activated manually to produce a vertical force for disengaging clipping units. The base and the clipping units mutually cooperate with each other and are made of plastic material. The cover is also produced from the same plastic material, and a web of a hinge (4) is made of an elastomeric plastic material.
