Abstract (en)

The table has a single plank with a central opening (B), and a radial cut (E) leaving from table's peripheral beveled edge till the opening. The cut is realized by two opposite beveled edges that are separated to obtain a vertical space for passage of stem of a plant. The plank is made of a semi-rigid material e.g. Plexiglas, whose elasticity permits sufficient lateral spacing of the cut's edges to install the plank on a pot.
