Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1643045A2] The connecting plate comprises a lower part (5) with a flat rear side, and two undercuts on its front side which face away from each other. The plate has an upper part with a flat rear side with two undercuts which face each other which form a tongue-and-groove connection with the undercuts of the lower part. The under part and the upper part of made of sheet metal, and the undercuts are formed by bending and stamping.
