Abstract (en)
A display device for framing under glass an object that is not flat and that has a thickness greater than 1 cm comprises a deformable plastic film (1) fixedly attached by a fixed attachment mechanism (3) to a recessed rigid frame back panel (2). The deformable plastic film is disposed to cover the recess. Independent claims are also included for: (1) a method for displaying beneath a transparent rigid surface (5) an object that is not flat and that has a thickness greater than 1 cm comprising using a deformable plastic film to form a back panel component; (2) a method of producing a back for a frame (7) for displaying under glass an object that is not flat comprising making at least one recess of a rigid back panel (8) for a frame; fixedly attaching a deformable plastic film onto the rigid back panel in order to cover the recess; and (3) a box lid base comprising a base support including at least one recess and a deformable plastic film fixedly attached to the base support including ≥ 2 side flaps intended to keep the box lid base fixedly attached to a transparent box lid comprising a transparent rigid surface to display an object that is not flat inside a device forming a box lid.
