Abstract (en)

The unit has a receptacle (2) in which band shaped packaging material (3) is foldedly arranged, such that an end (10) of the material temporarily rests and is accessible from outside of the receptacle, when an end (9) of the material is supplied to a packaging equipment (6). The folding arrangement is effected in the form of a pile with which two pile sections of the material adjacent to a folding edge lie horizontal to each other. An independent claim is also included for a packaging equipment with a supplying device with a transport and storage unit for band shaped packaging material.
